

CPESC EXAM PREP AND EXAM

Rules and regulations governing misuse of land and water resources and damages inflicted on others by erosion and sediment have been passed by federal, state and local governments. These regulations create a need for the services of professionals trained in proper erosion and sediment control methods. Such professionals increasingly must be able to show evidence of their qualifications. A CPESC is a recognized specialist in soil erosion and sediment control. The certification program, sponsored by the Soil and Water Conservation Society and the International Erosion Control Association provides the public with evidence of professional qualifications.

Certification as a CPESC is based upon scholarly preparation, knowledge, and experience. Professionals listed on the registry will (a) meet the educational and practical experience standards, (b) subscribe to the code of ethics, (c) qualify for particular identification of special abilities, and (d) pass a qualifying examination. A Certification Review Committee (CRC) passes on the credentials of each applicant for certification. All decisions of the CRC pertaining to eligibility for certification and inclusion on the registry must be considered final after due provision for an appeal.

The 8 hour exam prep course will provide an overview of the study handbook available through CPESC, Inc. This course will be taught by CPESC certified instructors, and will aid students in preparing for the exam. To register for this class please call (919) 883-8211 or visit www.ecoturf.net.
